Bacon Bowl: The Last Dish You'll Ever Need

Usually when we see the "As Seen On TV" label, we instantly get suspicious. But the Bacon Bowl is so simple and brilliant, it's hard to see why it took this long to make it a reality. After all, we've had the bread bowl for quite some time, so why not go one better and turn that sucker into a slab of greasy pork?

Since originally seeing the ad on Crackle, we've decided one of these should be in every home in America, especially where members of the male gender are present. Just add eggs, macaroni and cheese, pasta, or salad (just kidding on that last one), and you're good to go!
